Goddess Retreats

I may have the perfect solution for you.

Dawn Charlton (my Lomi Lomi teacher/mentor) will soon be organising goddess retreats to expand the service and way of Lomi Lomi.

A goddess retreat is not to learn the style of Lomi but to experience a way of living the holistic philosophy - being stillness within, fun with nurturing the self and others and a journey of self discovery and insight.

Dawn has an array of fabulous facilitators of varying modalities to bring knowledge, trust, wisdom, insight and fun to any retreat or weekend away.

For further information on goddess retreats please phone/email myself or visit 'Goddess Retreats' on my website.

Have you considered attending a goddess retreat for something a little different for that weekend away and time out?

Participating in a goddess retreat can help you restore your feminine power and your divine goddess self so that you can experience the wealth of universal abundance available to you as a woman.

Whether you are looking to join a goddess retreat or you have a group of ready women looking for someone to organise your retreat,
